

Present rules regarding maximum radiation limits should remain unchanged. In fact, the existing limits should be enforced more aggressively by the commission.